Liquid Spaces' Exhibitions at One Union proudly hosts Art: Recycled and Found, a traveling exhibition from Expressions Gallery in Berkeley, California. Showcasing work of mixed mediums by 22 Bay Area artists, Art: Recycled and Found promotes creative material re-use and encourages us to discover visual splendor in unusual objects as well as our everyday environment. A reception for the artists and public on Friday, October 13th from 6pm-9pm is highlighted by a Re:Fashion Show at 7:30pm. The ladies of Stitch will present creations from their new book Sew Subversive, a do-it-yourself guide to reconstructing clothing. Melissa Alvarado, Melissa Rannels and Hope Meng began Stitch in 2001 and now provide creative fashionistas with the only urban sewing lounge of its kind; Stitch Lounge in San Francisco's Hayes Valley. Wickenshire, composed by Andrew Wickens and Josh Hernandez, will add beat-driven, instrumental music to the night that features recycled sound. Liquid SPACES invites you to join us at One Union to meet the artists, mingle with art and design aficionados and enjoy live music, refreshments and a Re:Fashion Show!

Liquid SPACES is a nonprofit dedicated to supporting local artists in the development and promotion of new work.
